

THE BANK TAX CASE.

It Is Continued Until November 12th.

The Robinson-Haymond Suit Settled and Dismissed—A Defaulting Witness Arrested—Calendar for Today.

The order to show cause against Collector L. G. Hardy in the suits of the Utah National and Zion's Savings Bank to enforce him from collecting the taxes levied against the bank has been continued on motion of the collector until Nov. 12 at 10 a.m. In the meantime a temporary restraining order remains in effect preventing the collector from issuing against the banks.

Settled and Dismissed.

The suit of Annie Robinson vs. B. G. Haymond and Benjamin Driggs, upon mortgage aggregating $3,155, came to a sudden termination in the third district court yesterday afternoon, the case being settled by the parties to the suit and withdrawn after a jury had been called and a portion of the testimony taken. Mrs. Robinson signed over all her right and interest in the Driggs mortgage and accepted a cash sum which was a very liberal reduction from the amount claimed.

AN INDEMNITY CASE.

The suit of Hoffman & Richards, Denver, Colo., investment brokers against Edwin Dought and others upon an indemnity bond demanding $1,770 was begun after the close of the Robinson suit. Edwin Dought and J. H. Martin contractors, agreed to erect on Eleventh East street three houses for the plaintiffs and gave them a bond signed by A. J. Houghton and H. F. Hodge. Dought and Martin failed in business and Hoffman and Richards finished the houses, paying out $1,770 over the contract price. Neither Dought nor Martin appeared in court and a default was entered against them. Houghton and Hodge appeared to defend and set up that the bond was invalid by reason of their having signed only with the district understanding that one other party would also sign. The plaintiffs put in the time of the case and the defendants opened at the time of adjournment of court for the day.

Next Orders.

H. E. Moulton under indictment for larceny was released on bond in the sum of $250.

Pinepoint Manufacturing company vs. L. H. Orton; defendant allowed twenty days in answer.

H. J. Myers vs. Thomas Vanard; by agreement referred to deamur to T. J. Anderson as referee to decide.

Gertrude Van Ande vs. Frank Tift et al., decree of divorce for plaintiff.

A. G. Burt vs. A. J. Burt et al., continued at cost of defendant.

Utah National Bank and Zion's Savings Bank vs. L. G. Hardy, collector; hearing to order to show cause continued to Saturday, Nov. 12.

Mason & Co. vs. T. J. Angell company; motion for judgment on pleadings; leave to amend answer in three days time.

Frank Merrill vs. Hattie Merrill; motion for leave to file amended answer and cross-complaint allowed by court.

Referee T. L. Harker who is hearing the divorce suit of Rachel Hamlin against George Hamlin, reported to the court yesterday that Harriet D. Cook, a witness for the defense had refused to appear in answer to summons. Judge Zane ordered Mrs. Cook arrested on an attachment and to be brought into court to show cause why she should not be punished for contempt.

Suits Filed.

M. Homberger & Co. of New York city have filed suit against D. Alexander & Co. to recover $1,000 on a promissory note.

Hyman Harris has brought suit against the Freed Furniture company to recover $500 for rent of store occupied by the defendants for the months of September and October.

The Utah Commercial and Savings Bank has sued George W. Earl and James H. Harrison upon their promissory note for $10,000, and for the foreclosure of a mortgage on certain real estate given to secure judgment of the note.

Louis Rothberger of Cincinnati has filed suit against John Beck and others to foreclose a mortgage for $10,000 given on the Beck's Hot Springs property. Other claims aggregating nearly $100,000 will probably be filed within a day or two.
